

Sick Trick Tour 2011 presented by Greenroom

8th QParks Tourstop in the DC Snowpark Kitzbühel

Snowboarders and Freeskiers will already for the 9th time meet in the DC Snowpark Kitzbühel at the Hanglalm to show their latest skills at the Sick Trick Tour Open on April 1st and 2nd 2011. The riders will gather at the infamous DC Snowpark Kitzbühel fighting for prizemoney and goodies worth 6.000,- Euros as well as for important points of the QParks Tour! At the two-day spectacle there will be massive freestyle action as well as great after-contest parties at the end!

Spring weekend with freestyle action

A relaxing spring atmosphere at the Hanglalm: on April 1st and 2nd 2011 the Sick Trick Tour Open will take place in the DC Snowpark Kitzbühel! First, all freeskiers will battle at the slopestyle contest for the highly coveted prizemoney and goodies of the sponsors worth 3.000,- Euros on April 1st! On the next day it's the snowboarders turn to strive for fame and to fight for the 3.000,- Euros of prizemoney and goodies as well! In addition, the snowboarders and freeskiers can collect important points for the QParks Tour to qualify for the finals at the Horsefeathers Superpark Dachstein at the end of the season!

Everybody can participate at the Sick Trick Tour Open

All motivated riders can register online under www.sicktricktour.com for the Sick Trick Tour Snowboard and Freeski Open until March 30th 2011. Don't consider too long – the starting places of both event days is limited to 50 each! For the pre-registration you have to pay an entry fee of 15€, spontaneous riders can register on-site at the particular contest day until 09.30am. If you do so, an entry fee of 20€ has to be paid. You can win a wildcard for the semifinals of the Sick Trick Tour Open by getting 1st place at the "King of Steel" contest in the Jibgarden Waidring on March 19th 2011 – you will be relieved from the entry fee as well as the stressful qualifications!

Sick Tricks and Big Slopestyle Action

A high level of riding on both contest days is expected in this year again! The contest is held in the slopestyle format and the freeskiers and snowboarders will shred the nice contest setup consisting of Kickers, Boxes and Rails in the DC Snowpark Kitzbühel. The spectators can brace up for massive airs and a lot of doubles and watch the spectacle from the chill area with some nice beats by the DJ, fresh Heineken beer or Red Bull.

The Sick Trick Freeski Open on April 1st will come to an end at the prize-giving ceremony in the Sunseit restaurant. The successful snowboarders will be celebrated one day later at the legendary after contest party in the Highways club in Kitzbühel!

Everyone can win

No matter whether you're on the rider's or the spectator's side, anyone can win at the QParks Tour! All riders who sign up online at www.qparks.com do have the chance to collect "votes" on their profiles. The rider with the most votes in the end of the tour wins a 2 weeks Balicamp trip. But also the "voters" won't come away empty handed: there's another 2 weeks stay in the Balicamp including flight, accommodation and surf guiding waiting for one of you guys voting on the riders, along with heaps of goodies at each tourstop! More details here.

You can find further information about the event under www.sicktricktour.com as well as on www.qparks.com, the DC Snowpark Kitzbühel Website and on Facebook!

2 days freestyle action in the DC Snowpark Kitzbühel – 2 days of frisky atmosphere and party – be there or be square!
